

LIQUOR PLEDISCITE TRANSFERABLE VOTE

Issued by the Authority of the Alberta Government.

For the first time in Alberta, the preferential ballot or in other words the transferable vote system, is to be used in a province wide election, on the liquor question on Monday, November 12th.

As is well known there are four questions on the ballot paper. The voter must not use the "X" mark but should place the figure 1 opposite the proposal he wishes to approve. Then he should place the figure 2 opposite his second choice, the figure 3 opposite his third choice and so on. Though voters are entitled to "plunge" for one question, or to vote less than the full number of choices, the government will count their full number of choices. Only in this way can the voters obtain the full value of their votes and the government obtain a full expression of opinion.

The following statement is given as an explanation of the use of the transferable vote.

The keynote to our system of government is "The Will of the Majority Shall Govern." How shall the will of the majority of the electors be ascertained? By their preference expressed by their votes.

Where there are only two questions before the electors, it is an easy matter to get a clear majority decision by the use of the X vote or ballot. If an elector has to vote for one of two questions, he has but one choice, and when the votes are counted, one or the other of the questions will be likely to have over one half of the total votes cast and will be declared carried, as expressing the will of the majority which all must submit to.

The present method of marking the ballot with an X is adequate for the purpose of showing the voters choice out of two only. But when there are three or more questions, the purpose equally well. So long as the votes cast at an election can be assembled in two piles, one of the electors is almost certain to contain more than one-half of all the votes cast and the will of the majority is thus ascertained.

Trouble arises with the X method of voting when there are more than two questions to be carried and no question receives a clear majority of all the votes cast. If the electors have to make a choice out of three questions, there will be three piles of ballots. If one of them contains more than the other two, that is more than half of the total ballots cast, the will of the majority is clearly ascertained, and the object of the election has been attained. But if the votes are about equally divided among the three questions and no question has a majority of all the votes cast, the election has failed to discover the will of the majority.

If all the electors were called together into one large hall to decide by a show of hands which of three questions should be adopted as the will of the majority, the first vote each elector would hold up his hand for his choice. The result of the question would be that no question would have a clear majority of all the votes cast. The result of the question would be that no question would have a clear majority of all the votes cast.

The chairman of the election would declare this question defeated, leaving only two in the running. A show of hands would next be called for between the two remaining questions. Now the electors who had as their first choice the defeated question would have no right to vote for the third of the remaining two. The result would be two piles of ballots with a majority for one of the questions.

The same result could be obtained by holding two elections under the X method. At first election each elector would vote for his choice of the three; at the second election the question receiving the fewest votes in the first election would be dropped and all the votes would be given a chance to vote for their choice of the remaining two, thus giving one or the other of the two questions a clear majority.

THE BLACKFOOT M. D. COUNCIL MEETING

Minutes of the regular meeting of the Council of Blackfoot M. D. No. 218 held in the municipal office on Tuesday.

Present: Reeve Dave and Councillors Thorsen, Maynard, Rasmussen and Christensen.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted on motion of Councillor Maynard.

Councillor Thorsen: That Deputy Reeve McLean be re-elected deputy-revee for the balance of 1923 and until the new council is installed in 1924. Carried.

The road commissioner then reported as follows:

1. That the Department of Public Works had agreed to erect a bridge between sections 20 and 21 in 22-23 and also one on the road allowance north of the north east quarter of 20-22-23-24 and that both the bridges would be built this fall.

2. That Mr. Graham, engineer of the Department of Public Works had acknowledged receipt of the list of bridges that this council wished the department to build during the year 1924.

3. That a communication had been received from the C. P. R. as a bridge between sections 9 and 10 in 22-23-24, but as that bridge had already been re-elected it would be as well to leave it as it is until some time as it would require to be rebuilt they would be placed so that traffic could follow a route line of the road.

4. That the C. P. R. had requested that this municipality take over their abandoned bridge between sections 33 and 34 in 22-23-24.

5. That a letter had been received from the C. P. R. land agent in Calgary regarding the road diversion in the north east quarter 27-24-21-4 requesting settlement for the land taken out for work in connection with moving the fence.

Councillor Thorsen: That this municipality take over from the C. P. R. the bridge between sections 33 and 34 in 22-23-24. Carried.

Councillor Maynard: That the additional demand of Jeanne d'Arc S.R. D. for $500 be paid on their request and that the chairman of the school board be notified to that effect. Carried.

Councillor Thorsen: That the offer of Arthur Blais to pay $250 at the present time on his taxes and the balance in full when he received final settlement for his car of what is already shipped be accepted. Carried.

Councillor Thorsen: That we pay the annual membership fee of $20.00 to the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts and that we send an official delegate to their annual convention to be held at Edmonton on October 24th and November 1st and 2nd next Councillor Maynard and Rasmussen. Carried.

The accounts as to K.V. by the finance committee were read. Carried.

Councillor Christensen: That the following time sheets be ordered paid:

Division 1 for	$312.75
Division 2 for	$22.00
Division 3 for	$40.00
Division 4 for	$30.00

Carried.

Mr. Hall, solicitor of Calgary and Mr. Haan came before the Council to protest against the opening of the road diversion survey across the southern boundary of the north half of Sec. 27-23-24-4. At a meeting of the Council held on May 8th last the road commissioner was instructed by the Council to have this and several other road diversions laid out by the engineer and also to have the necessary plans prepared so that the land taken could be registered and paid for. This work had all been completed before any complaint had been received as to the opening of this particular road across Sec. 27-23-24-4. At a meeting of the Council held on August 7th last Mr. S. Christensen, the registered owner of the land in question came before the Council objecting to the opening of the road and requested that the road be closed and that the survey be stopped. At that meeting the matter was fully looked into and a resolution unanimous was passed that the road be closed and that the survey be stopped. Notwithstanding this decision the Council

HIGH FARTHING TALKS ON MODERATION

Considering the night was cold and the meeting held in the curing rink which few anticipated would be heated at another meeting was held that night, the first public meeting held in Gleichen to consider the liquor referendum, was well attended, there being over one hundred ladies and gentlemen present, the latter naturally greatly in the majority. Also there was a more orderly public meeting held in this town, no interference with the speakers and not even a question asked at any time.

Mr. L. M. Webster president of the local committee of the Alberta Moderation League, proved a very efficient chairman, and occupied little time in this capacity.

Mr. Farthing proved a very earnest speaker and at no time became very sarcastic, abusive or sentimental, yet towards the end quite eloquent. Most of his address confined to facts and explanations, which become natural to a man of his profession. From his remarks it was easily gathered he has travelled in all parts of America, in that he spoke of observations made in every province of Canada and of various separated portions of the United States, as well as referring to various countries in the Old World.

In his last speech it would be useless to attempt a verbatim report of his address, but a few of the various subjects might be touched upon. He contended there was more literature displayed over the liquor referendum than any social or political question and went to state that if the issue had returned it would be the fault of the prohibitionists in the Alberta Legislature, for they were the ones who introduced into clause "X" the words "to be confirmed on license premises", which he contended was not the wish of the Moderation League.

In 1919 he claimed the open bar question was not and concerned in Alberta; but today, under prohibition, in the larger towns and cities it was merely relegated to the upstairs and back parlors.

He said we were told if we voted for prohibition in two or three years the liquor problem would be solved, but we have had seven years of it and now we are told it will take a generation.

Lord Northcliffe after touring this country was asked what he thought of prohibition in America and his reply was, "Prohibition, where is it?" Speaking of doctors issuing prescriptions he asked why was it that in Edmonton there was four times as many people ill than in Calgary.

He said he told a fair story Sunday and would have agreed to prohibition to the extent of having only one bottle in their cupboard in case of illness.

again considered the matter and arrived into the merits of the objections raised by Messrs. Hall and Rasmussen. The whole matter was gone into very thoroughly and a motion by Councillor Christensen, "That this Council advise its decision reached at their meeting on August 7th last to open the road as surveyed", was carried unanimously.

The matter of compensation for lands taken for the road diversion across sections 25, 26, 27 and 34, all of 22-23-24 was considered by the Council.

Councillor Maynard: That all lands taken in connection with the road diversion be paid for according to the preliminary agreements signed by the owners of the lands so taken. Carried.

Councillor Rasmussen: That as the commissioner in charge of the work of fencing the road diversion across sections 25-26-27 and 34 in 22-23-24 had not completed their work that Councillor Christensen be authorized to have these fences built and to turn the account in to the council for payment. Carried.

The secretary was instructed to notify Frank Hais, postmaster, that complaint had reached this office that stock owned by him was being allowed to run at large contrary to the provisions of the Domestic Animal Act and request that he look after his animals and keep them under control. Councillor Maynard: That we advise one day Donald said he was ill and

NAMAKA U.F.A.

Namaka—At a meeting of the Namaka Local U.F.A. held last Saturday evening at the home of S. T. Waisel the question of having a local representative on the Wheat Pool delegation was discussed and approved. The meeting was unanimous in the selection of Mr. T. A. Thorsen, who is qualified to represent this district.

Mr. Thorsen is farming extensively east of Namaka and is thoroughly conversant with the grain business. He is an active member of the U.F.A. and is chairman of the local directors of the U.F.A. G. Elevator. A public spirited citizen he has acted for eleven years as trustee, secretary, treasurer and chairman of the Elwood school district and is a councillor of the Blackfoot Municipal District. He has taken an active part in Red Cross work and been on drives for the Victory Loans, Red Triangle and Wheat Pool campaigns.

Members of the Wheat Pool are asked to put Mr. Thorsen's name on the ballot card and forward same to the proper quarter.

asked Sandy where the bottle was Sandy replied: "I was ill yesterday". Dealing with prohibition reducing drunkenness he said statistics had been produced showing it had decreased 25 per cent. He said an economist had once stated there was "less and less in statistics". But he contended that where the laws were related to upstate and back allies the charges against drunkenness could not be otherwise than decreased.

He said temperance had increased and driven to secret places, which was natural.

The Moderation fight was against the bars and he advised the members of the ballot to make no mistake, and specially be sure not to mark "X" on the ballot anywhere, but to be sure to mark 1 for D, 2 for R and 3 for C.

Speaking of crime he said we were told prohibition would make of our jails kindergartens and we would be asked for relief of the families of police out of jobs, yet in 1919 the greatest wave crime in history was reported, which has happily lessened in some places.

We were told jails had been reduced in number, but now all given sentences over two years were sent to penitentiaries. While Ontario had increased 25 per cent in population the penitentiaries had increased 100 per cent. The police had been kept so busy with the liquor act they had no time to look after protection of life and property.

He then spent considerable time discussing the present Alberta Liquor Act, which he contended was opposed to all British liberty, in that it provided that the person charged with breaking the act must prove his innocence, and in case of appeal must apply with in five days, whereas the inspector was given 14 days. The person charged could only appeal if he was given a 141 sentence without the opinion of a jury. The appeal could be placed up to $500.

Section by section he took up the act and gave his interpretation of it, which he proclaimed impossible to enforce.

The matter of prohibition could be brought about was by a campaign of education against the evils of liquor and moral persuasion of the people. Mr. Farthing quoted many authorities to show the benefits of moderation, laws both in B.C. and Quebec. He then spoke from a moral point of view. Under the old system we had discontent and moral perversion of the authorities; now we have satisfaction, credit and obedience to authority. Credit for the moral power is due to the people of the province who have loyally supported the law and not hesitated to come out in the open. The new law is unquestionably trespassing to a certain extent upon personal liberty; it is a compromise between the rights of the individual and the necessities of the liquor problem. It is recognized as such by the people of the province and accepted in a spirit of good will. Never has a liquor law been respected as well as the present law. It represents the will of the people—you can have no other law that works."

other the necessary majority.

Such a method would be very cumbersome and too costly to adopt, for a dozen consecutive elections might be necessary to select a winner where the questions sufficiently numerous. Moreover the same results can be secured in a very simple and inexpensive manner. Note what the electors did in the two elections referred to. In the first they voted their choices, that is their first choices. In the second election those who had voted their first choices for the defeated question, voted their second choices for one of the two questions referred to. The electors went into one or other of the two piles and took part in the final result in expressing the will of the majority.

Now this result can be secured by each elector marking his first choice 1, his second choice 2 and so on for the number of questions and having the consecutive elections all over at once, so far as his part is concerned. The official who counts the votes does the rest, according to the instructions given on ballot. If the elector's first preference question is dropped as having fewest votes, his second preference shows which one of the remaining questions he desires his ballot counted for. If his second preference question is dropped his third preference shows which one of the remaining questions he desires his ballot counted for. The counting official keeps transferring the ballots from one pile to another as indicated until there are only two piles left, one of which is almost certain to contain more than half of all the votes thus cast and is thus the expressed will of the majority.

At the coming plebiscite there are four questions and each elector is urged to mark his preference to the limit. The exercise of choice develops intelligence, knowledge and judgment and as this form of ballot is likely to come into general use the sooner the electors learn to use his right to vote to its fullest extent the better it will be for the elector and for the country.

J. E. Orander last week endeavored to prove to the Call he could grow other things in big quantities as well as wheat by bringing to this office three exceptionally large potatoes of the Wee McGregor variety, which may be seen in our office window. Mr. Orander says these are not an exception, but rather the rule and many hills produced these and four the size of these. We have not weighed these beauties but defy any Irishman to eat a whole one of them at one meal.

Thorsen Bros. have a great crop this year and estimate they will market about 30,000 bushels of wheat. They have been threshing steadily for over 30 days and expect it will take another two weeks to finish up.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS

The Voter MUST NOT use the X mark. He should mark the figure 1 opposite the question he wishes to become law. He should then mark the figure 2 opposite the question he would select as second choice, the figure 3 opposite his third choice, the figure 4 opposite his fourth choice. He must make no other mark on the ballot. The voter may "plump" for one question alone, using the figure 1, without spoiling his ballot; or he may vote only two or only three choices.

Voters are urged, however, to vote the full extent of their four choices. There is always the possibility that the question of his first choice will not carry. In that case he should have a second choice, and a third choice and a fourth choice. Only by marking the full number of choices does the voter obtain the full benefit of the preferential ballot, and the government obtain a complete expression of the opinion of the people.
